FROM THE

PASTOR

Recently, Helen and I went to Nicaragua to engage with several ministries working to better the lives of urban and rural Nicaraguans. The Jubilee House Community runs a nonprofit called the Center for Development in Central America. We visited a nonprofit clinic they run in a very poor neighborhood adjacent to Managua, the capital of Nicaragua. They are offering health care, health information, dental care, and some mental health care to those who would find it difficult to access care elsewhere. We also visited CEPAD, or the Council of Protestant Churches of Nicaragua, which has a stated mission as follows: "Provide faith-based training to people in rural Nicaraguan villages through programs in leadership training, sustainable agricultural practices, and economic development so they can break the cycle of hunger and poverty to support themselves and their families." We visited both of CEPAD's central offices, and went out to see the work CEPAD is doing to carry out their mission in the villages. I am still processing the many experiences I had of the care, energy, intelligence and perseverance I noticed in the work of CEPAD and the villagers. I am sure we will have opportunity to tell you more about this trip.

The reason I bring all of this up is not so much to tell you about my trip, but to note how clearly I felt that these efforts were influenced by faith. The leaders of these organizations were clearly motivated by their faith to do these good works. We were fortunate to be part of a groundbreaking ceremony at CEPAD and hear how each step of CEPAD's history and continued work is grounded in faith. I had travelled thousands of miles and crossed over multiple borders before entering Nicaragua. I found in Nicaragua that Ephesians 4:4-6 was evident: "There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope of your calling, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all and through all and in all."

We and the people we met may not have had quite the same way of articulating our faith. Indeed, I understand only a few words of Spanish. I suspect our theological articulations would vary, yet we know the same Lord and, as the preacher at the groundbreaking noted, we all know the same language in Christ, the language of love. Out of a trust in Jesus as Lord and Savior, and desire to follow him, we find we are shaped into people who care for the needs of others. Following Jesus means we cannot simply look away and do our own thing, but are somehow called to care for one another. And in Jesus, as God's children, there are no borders.

Lent is a time in the church year for noticing how we have had difficulty following Christ. It is a time for introspection with an eye to weeding out that which is not of God, and for opening our hearts and minds again to the way of Christ. So, as we enter Lent, we are invited to notice how Jesus challenges us to see the world differently. We are invited to see the world through the lens of God's love, a love that would send God's son to be with us, teach us, die for us, and rise to call us into new life and everlasting life. I find it easy to want to skip the challenge and go just to the new life. The season of Lent and the Passion of Jesus lead us, I believe, to live with the challenges. I am challenged with the privilege and advantages I have in comparison to the people of Nicaragua. I am challenged as to how I care for those I now know.

This is just one instance of the many ways we are challenged to live the life of service and care God showed us through the love of Christ Jesus our Lord. In a world with so many challenges, the key is not to back away, but to know that Christ will lead us to be his people and to be those who can extend the very love of God to others, as he has to us. We must live with the challenges. We must pray and look for God's guidance in confronting violence. We must pray and look for God's guidance in the midst of concerns over an epidemic. We must pray and look for God's guidance as we confront the reality of climate change, and we could go on. Yet, because we have faith, we do not give up. Instead, we give our energy and resources as best we can to do the good God shows us, and to follow Christ as he leads us to be his servants in a world that has too much brokenness.

May you have a meaningful, even challenging, Lent as we enter into the work of Jesus Christ throughout this season.

Grace and peace,
Norman

Lenten Bible Project Discussion Group

On Wednesday evenings after Supper Fellowship, Celeste Brown will be leading a group discussion of Lent-appropriate topics from the BibleProject.com. We will offer a short prayer, view a 5-6 minute video from the Bible Project, then discuss ideas raised by the video.

Since Lent is a time for self-examination, the topics will be "Sin", "Transgressions", "Iniquity", "Sacrifice and Atonement" and "Kingdom of the Gospel". Each lesson is self-contained, so there is no homework and you don't have to come to all of the discussions.

Beginning March 4, we will meet in the Library after supper each week, from about 6:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m.

Upper Room: Sunday Evening Worship, Discussion, and Fellowship

Ever want to be able to talk further about thoughts, feelings, impressions, and/or ideas that something in the texts, music, or sermon of the day engendered? On Sunday evenings through Lent, March 1-29, at 6:00 p.m., we will be engaging in worship, discussion, and fellowship in the upper chapel room using the themes of that Sunday. We plan to have room to share our questions, thoughts and feelings as we reflect, discuss, pray and sing. You are invited to participate. Child care available.

Join One of Our Adult Bible Studies

We have several groups that meet weekly for Bible Study using the Bible Project videos as starting points for interesting and thought-provoking conversation about the books of the New Testament. These lessons are self-contained, so you may start at any time and come as often as you are able. On Wednesday mornings, there is a women's group at 10 a.m. in the church library, and a men's group at 10:30 a.m. in Room 35. Two other groups meet on Sunday mornings at 9:15 a.m. in Room 33 (this group has just started with Matthew) and Room 35 (just finished Colossians). (See page 2 for details about a Lenten-themed Bible study.)

If you are into current events and how scripture speaks to these situations, try The Wired Word group on Sunday mornings at 9:15 in the library.

Vital Community Conversations

We have so much division in our nation and community, yet we have many important issues to understand and address. Faith communities have an important role to play in engaging our community in healing this division. Moscow First Presbyterian's approach offers community gatherings, which we've named 'Vital Community Conversations,' (VCC) to provide community members with the opportunity to examine and discuss issues that are of immediate relevance to society. By stimulating these roundtable conversations, we hope to address our community's divisions.

Initially, these small-group conversations around the tables followed up on presentations and activities the University of Idaho offered to the general public. The first Vital Community Conversation last fall was on the Borah Symposium topic and presentations for this year – Climate and Conflict. The second in the series addressed the University of Idaho Common Read, the book 'There, There' by Tommy Orange, and the native American experience.

As we plan for spring, you are invited to become more involved in planning, leading, and/or logistics. Our next planning meeting is on March 2 at 5:30 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church. If you would like to be involved or would like more information, please talk with Pastor Norman or email Celeste Brown at bioinfomom@roadrunner.com.

Our next set of conversations are coming up quickly. On March 24 and 31, two Tuesdays at the end of March, we plan to gather at 6:30 p.m. in the 1912 Center to have conversation about the need for engaging in respectful conversations about difficult issues. We are still in the planning stages but hope to have time for both a panel discussion and table discussions around the importance of talking to each other instead past each other.

News Briefs

FACILITIES WORK DAY MARCH 14, 9:00 A.M. Everyone invited to join in a spring work day. Tasks include runs to the landfill and recycling center, pruning and other yard work, polishing brass handrails and other inside jobs. If you have suggestions for other tasks or have questions about the work day, contact Ed Schaper at edwardschaper@gmail.com or 208-882-0676.

THE CAROL RENFREW CIRCLE will meet Thursday, March 26, at 1:30 p.m. in the library to continue our Bible Study God's Promise, I Am with You, from the Horizons series. Linda Fleener will lead Lesson 6, God with Us Through Our Trials. Please read Isaiah 41:8-13; Isaiah 43:1-7; Psalm 46:1-11. Sally Amador will be hostess. All women are welcome for Bible study and fellowship.

INPUT NEEDED FOR EARTH DAY EVENT You are invited to come to The Center (formerly the Campus Christian Center) on Thursday, March, at 6:00 p.m. to help plan an event for the University of Idaho community to honor the 50th anniversary of Earth Day. University students, campus clubs, professors, staff as well as church and community members will come together over supper on Thursday to provide ideas and partners for the event that will take place in April. The theme of the April event is Environmental Sustainability, an important aspect of Creation Care.

SAVE THE DATE The Annual Family Promise Comfort Food Cookoff is set for April 4. Watch for details in upcoming Sunday bulletins and April newsletter.

REGISTRATION FOR WHITWORTH MINISTRY SUMMIT NOW OPEN You can now register for the 2020 Whitworth Ministry Summit (June 22-25). Now through April 2, all registrants receive $150 off their registration fee. Visit their website at <https://www.whitworth.edu/summit/> for all the details.

SUPPORT GROUP FOR GRIEVING PARENTS If you or anyone you know has experienced the death of a child, there is a support group that meets the second Monday of every month at 5:15 p.m. at the Uma Center, on Jefferson Street across from the Post Office in Moscow. The group was started by Ryan Law in response to the death of her daughter, with the goal of offering support, encouragement, understanding, and compassion in community with others who have experienced this devastating loss. More info: <https://www.facebook.com/Support-Group-for-Grieving-Parents-on-the-Palouse-113762076831088/>

PALOUSE CHORAL SOCIETY CHAMBER CHOIR CONCERT Saturday, March 7 at 6 p.m., St. James Episcopal Church, 1410 NE Stadium Way in Pullman and Sunday, March 8, at 4 p.m. at the Silverthorne Theatre on the LCSC campus, 500 8th Avenue in Lewiston. A musical exploration of war and peace, weeping and laughing, birth and death, a time for all things. Tickets available at the door or online at www.palousechoralsociety.org

IT'S PER CAPITA TIME

Each year, FPC pays a per capita assessment to Presbyterian Church (USA) based on the number of people on our membership roll. Per Capita helps cover the overhead expenses and supports the administrative and operational costs of the Presbytery, Synod, and General Assembly. Please consider contributing toward this assessment of $36 per person. Checks should be made out to First Presbyterian Church with the notation "per capita" in the memo line. Look for the blue Per Capita envelopes in the pew rack for cash donations. You may also give online at https://tithely/give_new/www/#/tithely/give-one-time/982246

Safe Church Project: Providing Care for All Who Use Our Facility

Building on the momentum from the Sweet Music Saturday kickoff last fall, the Safe Church Project is progressing well! We are currently finalizing bids and funding to fulfill safety improvements that honor FPC's essential mission and confirm our commitment to hospitality and welcome to the Moscow community. To date we have received financial gifts and commitments from the FPC family, Moscow Day School, and other individuals totaling $10,000, about 70% of our goal.

The Safe Church Project seeks to address safety issues that are commonly part of our daily activity, while maintaining a welcoming church and affirming the diverse uses of the FPC facility and grounds. Our church building is 80 years old, and safety needs have changed over the years. We seek to be a community asset in Moscow while meeting the spiritual needs of our congregants for many years to come.

Having completed an extensive review of the FPC facility and practices with safety experts, potential service vendors, FPC staff, and primary other users, we are moving forward with the following priorities:

- Improving door locks, lighting and other entrance/egress issues
- Adding needed safety items such as defibrillators, first aid equipment and signage
- Training a team of congregational members in specific care and safety practices
- Establishing communication protocols with neighborhood partners including Moscow High School, Moscow Police Department, and Latah County Sherriff's Office

Come to an information session about the Safe Church Project after Sunday worship on March 8 or March 15

To fulfill these needs and vision for the future, we invite you to contribute to the Safe Church Project and help reach the financial goal before us. We hope to begin work on the project this spring. You can contribute financially by:

- Accessing our online giving via Tithely
- Making a check or cash offering on Sunday mornings
- Mailing your contribution to the church office, 405 S. Van Buren, Moscow, ID, 83843

We are also seeking individuals to become part of an ongoing team in support of the safety and wellbeing of Moscow First Presbyterian. This would include things like receiving first aid/AED and safety training, as well as assisting with other needs related to the project. If you would like to offer the gift of your time in this way, please call or email the church office: 208-882-4122 or office@fpcmoscow.org.

First Presbyterian Church is a place of worship, renewal, sanctuary and celebration in our broader community. We are called to reach out and provide hospitality and welcome to all. We are grateful for your participation in helping Moscow FPC fulfill this mission.

Deacons' Spotlight

Matthew and Hollie Ann Mikami

Matthew was born and raised in Seattle. He was the eldest son, adopted into the Mikami family. He has an older sister and a younger brother. Matthew's mom and siblings still live in Seattle. His dad died in 2009.

When Matthew was 30, he hired WARM, (Washington Adoption Reuniting Movement) to locate his birth parents. His birth father was located, (after two years) and invited to meet Matthew. Both were very happy to meet. Matthew's birth father is a Doctor of Ministries, a Reverend, living in Seattle.

Matthew is so very glad that he moved to the Palouse area, because he met his wife, Hollie, here! His fondness for FPC is based on the feelings of community, gathering together, a home away from home, refuge, peace. His favorite bible story is about the Prodigal Son. Matthew's fondest memory of FPC is his wedding with Hollie in 2016; and his birth father was able to attend the service!

Matthew loves being a father. He feels that his life has had several stages. He is excited about the stage he is in now: his marriage to Hollie, and being able to have his daughter Everly, and his son Zeke, live with them fulltime. Matthew is a musician and song writer. He started playing the guitar in high school and has never lost his passion for creating and playing music. Some of Matthew's compositions are featured on iTunes.

Matthew works at Schweitzer Engineering Laboratories as a Quality Specialist. He also serves as the sound technician at FPC.

Hollie was born and raised in Idaho Falls. After finishing public school, she trained and worked as a dental assistant. Her greatest joy is in her current life as a wife, a mother, and a homemaker!

Hollie and Matthew Mikami were wed at FPC on December 17, 2016, at 7 pm. It was a cold day in December, -7°; but inside the sanctuary was a beautiful candlelight ceremony. This is, of course, Hollie's dearest church memory. Being mom to Everly, and a delightful tot named Zeke, about 2 ½ years old, is a dream come true.

Hollie is an avid dog lover. She volunteers at the Humane Society of the Palouse. She and Matthew have adopted special needs dogs and older dogs. She also loves to read. Her favorite bible stories are: Joseph and the coat of many colors, Abraham's obedience to the point of preparing to sacrifice his only son, and the book of psalms. She said her reasons for attending FPC are the music, the companionship, the feeling of family, and the uplifted feelings she gets.

Hollie is an over 10 years' survivor of Sarcoidosis. She has spent much time online researching, participating in support groups, and serving as an advocate for others.

Palouse Care Network Second Annual SPEAKUP! Family Conference

Equipping parents and teens to have the hard conversations regarding sex and relationships!

Saturday, March 14 — 10am to 4pm
1912 Center, 412 E 3rd St., Moscow, ID 83843

Participants will hear from Jeremy and Mary Jean Inman of Family Culture Project along with Michelle Ellinwood, CEO of Palouse Care Network, and Heather Thrash, Education Coordinator, to learn how to establish healthy family cultures that will promote environments of open conversation between parents and children.

This second annual daylong conference will unify families in our community and encourage each family that they are not alone in this sexualized culture through breakout sessions for adults and age-appropriate sessions for youth. This conference is for parents, youth leaders, teachers, adults who regularly interact with young people, and students in grade six or above.

Doors open at 9:45 AM for check in and refreshments. Snacks and lunch provided throughout the day. Registration Deadline: Wednesday, March 11, 2020. Contact heather@palousecarenetwork.com or call 208-882-2370. Tickets are $10 for an Individual, $30 per family. Call for GROUP RATES (6 or more).

One Great Hour of Sharing

Around the world, millions of people lack access to sustainable food sources, clean water, sanitation, education, and opportunity. The three programs supported by One Great Hour of Sharing all work in different ways to serve individuals and communities in need. From initial disaster response to ongoing community development, their work fits together to provide people with safety, sustenance, and hope.

Received during the season of Lent, One Great Hour of Sharing is the single, largest way that Presbyterians join together to share God's love with our neighbors-in-need around the world. Each gift to One Great Hour of Sharing (OGHS) helps to improve the lives of people in challenging situations through three impactful programs:

PRESBYTERIAN DISASTER ASSISTANCE Works alongside communities as they recover and find hope after the devastation of natural or human-caused disasters

PRESBYTERIAN HUNGER PROGRAM Takes action to alleviate hunger and the systemic causes of poverty so all may be fed

SELF-DEVELOPMENT OF PEOPLE Invests in communities responding to their experiences of racism, oppression, poverty and injustice, helps poor communities in the U.S. and around the world develop solutions to their own challenges, and educates Presbyterians about the impact of these societal ills

Through One Great Hour of Sharing, we become the household of God, joining with Presbyterians worldwide to answer God's call. Please give generously to One Great Hour of Sharing. Make checks payable to First Presbyterian Church, with "OGHS" in the memo line. For cash gifts, use the Special Offering envelopes in the pew rack. The offering will be dedicated on Palm Sunday, April 5.

IF WE ALL DO A LITTLE, IT ADDS UP TO A LOT!

Flowers Needed for Worship

The flower committee would welcome donation or loan of cut flowers or blooming plants for the sanctuary on Sunday mornings. If you would like to supply flowers in honor of a special occasion, or have flowers in your garden that you can share, please sign up on the flower chart on the office window or call the church office. We have vases at the church that you can use, or we can arrange the flowers for you.

The committee is also seeking new members to help see that we have flowers in worship each week, and to help care for the plants in the building. To find out more about this ministry, contact Linda at 509-872-1937.
